

CHILDREN'S JEWELRY MUST BE TESTED

If you sell Children's jewelry in the U.S. the CPSC requires it to be tested according to the CPSIA and ASTM F2923-14. All children's jewelry intended for children under 12 years old must undergo testing for both chemical and physical hazards. In addition many states require additional testing.

STC USA LLC ( formerly Benchmark Laboratories ) can advise you on the most economical way to comply with the jewelry testing standards. Contact us for a free consultation.
